COMPANY PROFILE

Yirra Yaakin (Yir-raarh Yaarh-kin] which means "Stand Tall" in Noongar language, is one of Australia's leading Aboriginal performing arts organisations producing award-winning, world-class theatre that is exciting, entertaining, educational, authentic and culturally appropriate.

Established in 1993, the Year of Indigenous People, as Yirra Yaakin Noongar Theatre, we started off with one successful funding application, three staff members and the desire to provide the Aboriginal community with an artistic outlet for positive self-determination.

More than 21 years later, Yirra Yaakin Theatre Company, with a combined board and staff of 20, has evolved into a respected cultural leader and artistic hub for Aboriginal people from all over Western Australia, Australia, and around the world.

Our stories have reached 13 countries in five continents and we have won awards for our theatre, governance and our partnerships, including a prestigious Sidney Myer Award for our record of facilitating Indigenous artistic programs.

The company has commissioned and premiered over 50 new theatre works. These include major Festival presentations such as Waltzing the Wilarra, One day in 67, Aliwah, Windmill Baby, and Cruel Wild Woman. Prominent Aboriginal writers have included Dallas Winmar, Mitch Torres, David Milroy, Sally Morgan and Derek Nannup, amongst many others who have contributed to the Yirra Yaakin experience.

Yirra Yaakin is proud to have produced a body of work unequalled in innovation, excellence and cultural significance. However, it's not just our professional performance program that has won us awards and critical acclaim. Yirra Yaakin has always had a broad education and community engagement program with a development base to ensure we continue to have Indigenous trainees working within the Australian theatre industry. Yirra Yaakin's priority is to ensure Aboriginal theatre remains under Aboriginal control and keeps providing opportunities for Aboriginal artists at all levels of theatre creation and production.

CHAIRPERSON'S REPORT

In 2014 Yirra Yaakin Theatre Company celebrated 21 years of sharing Aboriginal stories through high quality theatre productions to the broadest possible audiences – local, regional, national and international. Yirra Yaakin remains one of Australia's leading national Aboriginal performing arts companies and is the only Aboriginal theatre company located in Western Australia.

One significant highlight over the years was the creation and production of Shakespeare's Sonnets In Noongar language. This investment in Noongar language is something that we feel is important for our company, in that, with strength of language comes strength of culture and the company's identity was reinforced and strengthened through this experience. A special thank you goes to Kylie Farmer and Roma Winmar in their exceptional translation skills to bring us our Noongar language in this manner.

Yirra Yaakin has always had a broad education and community engagement program with a development base to ensure we continue to have Aboriginal trainees working within the Australian theatre industry. Our priority is to ensure Aboriginal theatre remains under Aboriginal control and keeps providing opportunities for Aboriginal artists at all levels of theatre creation and production.

It has been a wonderful year, with many successful presentations and events. I pass on my thanks to our volunteers including those representatives on our financial, venue and fundraising advisory committees.

To my fellow Board members, your support, time and energy provide ongoing excellent advice and direction to the company. Thank you to the staff of Yirra Yaakin whose enthusiasm and dedication ensures that we will continue to maintain and build on our reputation as we walk forward together with confidence.

However, we couldn't achieve what we do without the ongoing encouragement and support of our community and our partners, sponsors, donors and Koordahs (friends).

The Board and staff of Yirra Yaakin continue to work very hard, re-shaping the company in order to provide direction, stability and further drive the engagement process with the Aboriginal and wider arts community of Western Australia and beyond.

ARTISTIC DIRECTOR'S REPORT

21 years of Yirra Yaakin. What a ride it has been for the company. In tribute to the company's coming of age we honored our successful history while providing the right fertile grounds for the company to flourish over the next 21 years. Ialuru: A Celebration, really set the bar for the year and it was fantastic to have so many of the company's alumni stand with us as we celebrated this milestone. It charged the atmosphere around the company and propelled us forward for the year. Our new publication titled Yirra Yaakin Theatre Company: 21 Years of Sharing Aboriginal Stories, written by Katya Shevtsov, tells the story of Yirra Yaakin's 21 year history in a way that honors those that have traveled with the company. This publication combined with the exhibition at the WA Museum has really left a lasting footprint on the WA arts landscape and engraved the history of the company in the heart of Perth theatre history.

One of the most encouraging signs for the future was the work by Yirra Yaakin alumni and associate artists. Confessions of a Pyromaniac saw Mat Cooper and Shakara Walley work together to create a new work for The Blue Room Theatre's NAIDOC Week celebrations, with Eva Mullaley reworking the Eva Johnson classic, What Do They Call Me? as part of The Blue Room's curated program. We had a new crop of artists work on our successful Culture 2.0 | Respect Yourself, Respect Your Culture workshop program, which toured not only the Goldfields but also worked alongside our Kaatijin double bill, taking Noongar culture to primary schools and high quality workshops to secondary students in the North West/Pilbara region.

The key milestone for the year was the success of the remounting of the Yirra Yaakin classic King Hit. Performed in a tent in the courtyard of the State Theatre Centre of WA, this reimagining of this powerful production saw us work with an awesome company of all WA artists to bring to life this important work. King Hit was the finale of a very important year in the history of the company and also a very encouraging year for the future of not only the company but also the entire WA Aboriginal theatre industry.

PARTNERSHIPS OVERVIEW

The core objective of Yirra Yaakin in seeking partnerships remain focused on enhancing the Company's presentation of high quality theatre. In addition, to consolidate the Company's position within the broader community by building stronger relationships with all stakeholders, while developing greater capacity and standing within the Australian performing arts community. Alongside these operational objectives the aim is to also maintain and sustain a strong, financially viable organisation.

While the small to medium theatre sector in Australia continues to be challenged by increased costs, diminishing returns, and operates in an increasingly competitive climate for alternate sources of funding and support, Yirra Yaakin's position as the only Aboriginal theatre company in the state, and one of only several Aboriginal performing arts organisations nationally, continues to offer unique opportunities for new partnerships and relationships. There is always interest on the part of business (especially from the mining sector in WA) to engage in meaningful relationships with Aboriginal communities and related businesses, particularly those communities in which their own businesses operate. However, availability of funds will continue to be subject to market forces and shifting alliances. Yirra Yaakin recognises it has an important role to play in a process of effective cultural and community engagement, and this continues to be a key leverage in the Company's ability to access corporate partnerships.

It is noted that currently the Company has a significant reliance on key partnerships with several major mining companies. While these relationships are currently secure, they may not be sustainable over the long term. It is also acknowledged that these relationships are subject to fluctuations within the marketplace. This was evidenced by the withdrawal of a number of partners late in the year, including Company Partner B C Iron Limited, due to a downturn in the price of iron ore. Our ongoing strategy is to see that partnerships are spread across the Company's diverse programs so that risk can be minimised, and will not adversely affect our core business.

In 2014 Yirra Yaakin Theatre Company celebrated 21 years of operation. An outstanding community presentation IALARU: A Celebration, a co-production with partners the Perth International Arts Festival and Lotterywest at the Chevron Gardens showcased the history and artistry of the Company to a full house of alumni, partners, friends and many from the local Aboriginal community. We leveraged this opportunity to launch our new Company brand, the 2014 season and revitalised Koordah (Friends) Program.

In 2014 we consolidated our relationship with our Principal Community Partner Chevron Australia. Chevron partners with us to support our Education programs with a focus on the cultural health and wellbeing of the diverse communities we work with locally and regionally. In 2014 we shared many memorable events together including IALARU: A Celebration, and the NAIDOC Week WA Ball.

Our Development Partner Woodside continues its vital support of our Next Step Training Program alongside other key new work development and presentation activities. This innovative program provides emerging Aboriginal arts workers with focused training opportunities to support their professional development in the performing arts sector. A video documentation was created to record the stories and impact of the program with a number of our Next Step trainees, and an article on the program featured in Woodside's 60th Birthday edition of Trunkline magazine .We enjoyed a number of shared occasions with Woodside staff including IALARU: A Celebration and a special King Hit pre-performance event with representatives from Woodside's Reconciliation Interest Group.

Yirra Yaakin also thanks The McCusker Charitable Foundation for their support of the Next Step Program in the first half of 2014.

We welcomed back new friends Atlas Iron Pty. Limited who joined us in a new regional touring partnership and along with project partners the Water Corporation assisted us in the successful delivery of the NW Pilbara Tour of the Kaatijin double bill. We also warmly acknowledge the generous support of Company Partner BC Iron Limited in 2014, and presentation partners The Blue Room Theatre & The State Theatre Centre of WA. In addition we welcomed new NAIDOC Week WA partners the Georgiou Group, who will continue to support our growing NAIDOC week presence and programs over the next three years.

Our Community Cultural partnership with WA Museum saw us work together in generating an exciting program of activities based at the Museum site in the heart of the Perth Cultural Centre. A monitor presence in their entrance foyer shares Yirra Yaakin's current activities with Museum visitors, and together we produced the temporary exhibition and free film program IALARU: A Celebration that documented the Yirra Yaakin history over the last 21 years. We also co-presented the school holiday season of Kep Kaatijin with them in April. The Water Corporation also supported our Museum season in addition to the Metro Schools tour of Kep Kaatijin.

Yirra Yaakin receives ongoing support from the Department of Culture and the Arts (DCA), the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Arts Board (ATSIB) of the Australia Council for the Arts, and Major Partner Healthway with the Respect Yourself, Respect Your Culture message. We thank them for their continued and valuable assistance to our programs.

The Ministry for the Arts through the Indigenous Cultural Support program continues to actively support our Recording Stories Project, which saw various outreach activities undertaken regionally in addition to the regular monthly sessions of the Yirra Yaakin Writers' Group, with support for a Yirra Yaarnz presentation undertaken as part of NAIDOC Week. Country Arts WA maintained its support of our regional schools touring program which saw a team of our artists visiting schools and communities in the North West and Pilbara region. With the Kaatijin double bill touring the Goldfields for the Culture 2.0 | Respect Yourself, Respect Your Culture Workshop Program.

Our Giving and Fundraising plans continue to grow our audience base with new Koordahs (Friends) and Donors joining the Company steadily over the year. We also held a very successful invitation only welcome event with Creative Partnerships Australia at a King Hit Performance. We recently formed a new 'Think Tank' advisory to assist us with audience development and we thank them for their support to date.

PARTNERSHIPS OVERVIEW

Other individual supporters in 2014 we would like to thank include: Jonathan Holloway, Annette Madden, Rick Heath (PIAF); Henry Boston (CACWA), James Boyd (Creative Partnerships Australia) Alec Coles, Soula Veyradier (WA Museum), Erin Bourne, Emma Sandys (Chevron Australia Pty Ltd); and Jo Ferrie, Mia D'Adhemar, & Cher Gibellini (Woodside), Gerry Bradley (BC Iron Limited); Carrie Clark (Atlas Iron Limited), Jon Smeulders (Georgiou Group) and Rick Brayford from the Aboriginal Theatre Course at Edith Cowan University (ECU).

We also gratefully acknowledge support partners: Bevin Creative, Dashvisual, Kuditj Catering, Red Tiki, Spearpoint Productions, Currency Press, Circus Joseph Ashton, in addition to Happs Wines & Little Creatures Brewing who we welcome as hospitality partners for 2015.

2014 was a successful year for the Company consolidating our strong and dynamic position within the cultural fabric of Western Australia, the WA Aboriginal community, and beyond. A vibrant and successful sponsorship program assists Yirra Yaakin to expand and develop its operations through a broader, financially sustainable model and improves our ability to reach a wider audience. Financial support from sponsors, partners and donors ensures that Yirra Yaakin will continue to prosper as a leading performing arts organisation, not only in Western Australia, but also on the National and International stage. We thank all our friends and partners for their support over this milestone year in the Company's history.

EDUCATION HIGHLIGHTS

For 21 years, Yirra Yaakin has presented a vital and strong education program suitable for young people. Our productions and workshops are about bringing educators and students, opportunities designed to make students think, question their preconceptions and expand their knowledge of theatre as well as contemporary and traditional Aboriginal culture.

With the focus on the Australian Curriculum cross-curriculum priority, Yirra Yaakin is developing and expanding its education program to meet the needs of schools, families and the wider community.

"The Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories and cultures priority provides the opportunity for all young Australian's to gain a deeper understanding and appreciation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories and cultures, deep knowledge traditions and holistic world views. This knowledge and understanding will enrich all learners' ability to participate positively in the ongoing development of Australia through a deepening knowledge and connection with the world's oldest continuous living cultures." Australian Curriculum, Assessment and Reporting Authority (ACARA)

Kep Kaatijin (Understanding Water) – Aimed at students 4 years +

Kep Kaatijin (which in Noongar means to 'understand water') is a collection of stories based on traditional Noongar knowledge and storytelling. These stories have been sourced from senior Noongar Elders and adapted by Derek Nannup and David Milroy.

Kep Kaatijin was performed twice daily at the Western Australian Museum, Perth on three consecutive Saturdays – 15th, 22nd and 29th March 2014. It was taken to the schools from 25th March – 11th April 2014, reaching over 4,000 young people, families and teachers.

It is important in terms of raising an awareness of Noongar culture and Noongar language, not only to school children, but also adults and the wider community as well.

An Education Kit was prepared for children which raised awareness of Noongar language and Noongar culture, as well as providing teachers with post play activities. The kit was also used to promote the play to the Education Sector. The Education Kit gives the background to the Kep Kaatijin story and the importance of storytelling in Noongar culture.

A sample of 'trading cards' was also given to the children when the play was performed at the WA Museum. The Education Kit was emailed to schools with a link to the Yirra Yaakin website for downloadable activities.

We joined with the Western Australian Museum in 2013 to grow and develop opportunities to present contemporary Aboriginal performing arts experiences to family audiences, which is ongoing.

King Hit

King Hit was performed at the State Theatre Centre under the Big Tent. This play was suitable for students 12 and over. There were sixteen performances attended by 13 schools, with a total of 247 students & 27 staff.

An Education Kit for the students was prepared which raised awareness of Aboriginal culture, as well as providing teachers with post play activities. The Education Kit is an important promotional tool to promote the play to the Education Sector.

Excellent performance from all actors, age appropriate, engaged the audience, fantastic. Can't wait for your next production.
Teacher, Orana Catholic PS, Perth WA

Since the performance we have read other dreamtime stories and acted and danced them using many props, scarves ribbons and anything else we could think of. Your performance inspired the children and me and many classes then created their own dreamtime stories and acted them out.

Culture 2.0 | Respect Yourself, Respect Your Culture Goldfields Tour

The Yirra Yaakin Culture 2.0 | Respect Yourself Respect Your Culture workshop program provides meaningful cultural engagement with students in local, regional and remote areas of Western Australia.

From the 20-31 October 2014 Yirra Yaakin undertook the Culture 2.0 Workshop program to the Goldfields region as part of its educational strategic objective to provide creative opportunities for young people to engage with performing arts activities.

The workshops see our facilitators conducting theatrical skills development activities that generate conversations about the current state of culture with Aboriginal (and Non-Indigenous) students. The exercises and performance-generated outcomes reflect upon popular culture, as well as encompassing local issues for the students.

The aims of the workshops are:
To explore what culture means to our Youth.
To develop lasting relationships with community members in the Goldfields.
To develop theatrical outcomes with students that wouldn't normally access quality performing arts activities.

Recording Stories Program

The Recording Stories program receives funding from the Indigenous Culture Support (ICS) program, administered by the Ministry for the Arts.

The Recording Stories program celebrates the art of storytelling and culture, utilising writing workshops, skills development opportunities and performance outcomes to empower Aboriginal people to tell their own stories.

During January, the Recording Stories Project Manager, Irma Woods, worked with Balthazar Media and Spearpoint Productions to create 5 mini-documentaries. These were presented at our 21st Birthday event, IALARU: A Celebration.

In February, the Perth International Arts Festival and Yirra Yaakin presented a free, one-day Indigenous digital storytelling symposium, INDIGital. Next Step program participant Bec Garlett was engaged as the Community Relations Coordinator for INDIGital. Bec worked tirelessly towards the event, making it a success with 120 people in attendance.

Held on Monday 24 February, at the UWA Club, INDIGital brought together Indigenous practitioners working across different artforms and creative industries, along with digital creatives interested in collaborations to bring Indigenous stories to the world.

Writer's Group

The Writers Group began in March. These inter-generational writing workshops ran on the second Monday of each month. Playwright/Director Hellie Turner was the regular facilitator of these sessions. 19 sessions were held across the year.

The program also went to Mullewa for two weeks at the end of April, early May. Eva Mullaley organized this outreach trip, and Eva was accompanied by Sam Pilot to run workshops and record stories.

Other artists who were involved in the program included Geoff Kelso, who ran writing workshops in October and December and award-winning playwright Hilary Bell spent time with us in August. Hilary shared a unique insight into what it's like to be a professional writer. Hilary's session was followed by a regular writers group workshop run by Hellie Turner.

We held a Memoir Writing Workshop with Amanda Curtin in June, this workshop consisted of practical advice for those who are writing their life stories and/or biography of others. The WA Museum provided the venue: Woodward Room free of charge.

The program went to Bunbury in June. Judy Bone and the project manager spent a week there, visiting community members, local organisations and recording two community member's. Storyfire ran a digital storytelling workshop during June as well.

In early July we received the news that the company had received a further 12 months funding to run the Recording Stories program. After notifying stakeholders that the program was wrapping up due to lack of funding, the Project Manager began re-starting program activities, and concentrated on getting the writers group up and running again.

NOTE 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Corporate Information

Yirra Yaakin Aboriginal Corporation is a not for profit entity. The Financial Report of Yirra Yaakin Aboriginal Corporation for the year ended 31 December 2014 was authorised for issue in accordance with a resolution of Directors dated 29 April 2015.

Basis of Preparation

The financial report is a general purpose financial report, which has been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Corporation Reporting Guide issued by the Corporations (Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander) Act 2006, Australian Accounting Standards and other authoritative pronouncements of the Australian Accounting Standards Board. The financial report has also been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for financial assets and liabilities, which have been measured at fair value. The financial report is presented in Australian dollars.

These general purpose financial statements have also been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012. A statement of compliance with the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) cannot be made due to the Group applying not-for-profit specific requirements contained in the Australian Accounting Standards

Accounting Policies

a. Revenue

Grant revenue is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income when the Corporation obtains control of the grant and it is probable that the economic benefits gained from the grant will flow to the Corporation and the amount of the grant can be measured reliably.

If conditions are attached to the grant which must be satisfied before it is eligible to receive the contribution, the recognition of the grant as revenue will be deferred until those conditions are satisfied.

When grant revenue is received whereby the Corporation incurs an obligation to deliver economic value directly back to the contributor, this is considered a reciprocal transaction and the grant revenue is recognised in the statement of financial position as a liability until the service has been delivered to the contributor, otherwise the grant is recognised as income on receipt.

Yirra Yaakin Aboriginal Corporation receives non-reciprocal contributions of assets from the government and other parties for zero or a nominal value. These assets are recognised at fair value on the date of acquisition in the statement of financial position, with a corresponding amount of income recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

Donations and bequests are recognised as revenue when received.

Interest revenue is recognised using the effective interest rate method, which for floating rate financial assets is the rate inherent in the instrument. Dividend revenue is recognised when the right to receive a dividend has been established.

Revenue from the rendering of a service is recognised upon the delivery of the service to the customers.

All revenue is stated net of goods and services tax (GST).

b. Property, Plant and Equipment

Each class of property, plant and equipment is carried at cost or fair values as indicated, less, where applicable, accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

Plant and Equipment

Plant and equipment are measured on the cost basis less depreciation and impairment losses.

The carrying amount of plant and equipment is reviewed annually by directors to ensure it is not in excess of the recoverable amount from these assets. The recoverable amount is assessed on the basis of the expected net cash flows that will be received from the assets employment and subsequent disposal. The expected net cash flows have been discounted to their present values in determining recoverable amounts.

Plant and equipment that have been contributed at no cost, or for nominal cost are valued and recognised at the fair value of the asset at the date it is acquired.

NOTE 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Depreciation

The depreciable amount of all fixed assets including buildings and capitalised lease assets, but excluding freehold land, is depreciated on a diminishing balance method over the asset's useful life commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use. Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the shorter of either the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful lives of the improvements.

The depreciation rates used for each class of depreciable assets are:

Class of Fixed Asset	Depreciation Rate
Plant and equipment	15 – 50%
Motor vehicles	17%

Financial Report for the Year Ended 31 December 2014

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

Asset classes carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with the carrying amount. These gains or losses are included in the statement of comprehensive income. When revalued assets are sold, amounts included in the revaluation reserve relating to that asset are transferred to retained earnings.

c. Leases

Leases of fixed assets, where substantially all the risks and benefits incidental to the ownership of the asset, but not the legal ownership, are transferred to the Corporation are classified as finance leases.

Finance leases are capitalised, recording an asset and a liability equal to the present value of the minimum lease payments, including any guaranteed residual values.

Leased assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives where it is likely that the Corporation will obtain ownership of the asset. Lease payments are allocated between the reduction of the lease liability and the lease interest expense for the period.

Lease payments for operating leases, where substantially all the risks and benefits remain with the lessor, are charged as expenses on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Lease incentives under operating leases are recognised as a liability and amortised on a straight-line basis over the life of the lease term.

d. Financial Instruments

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the Corporation becomes a party to the contractual provisions to the instrument. For financial assets, this is equivalent to the date that the Corporation commits itself to either purchase or sell the asset (i.e. trade date accounting is adopted). Financial instruments are initially measured at fair value plus transactions costs except where the instrument is classified 'at fair value through profit or loss' in which case transaction costs are expensed to profit or loss immediately.

Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial instruments are subsequently measured at either fair value, amortised cost using the effective interest rate method or cost. Fair value represents the amount for which an asset could be exchanged or a liability settled, between knowledgeable and willing parties. Where available, quoted prices in an active market are used to determine fair value. In other circumstances, valuation techniques are adopted.

Interest revenue is recognised using the effective interest rate method, which for floating rate financial assets is the rate inherent in the instrument. Dividend revenue is recognised when the right to receive a dividend has been established.

Revenue from the rendering of a service is recognised upon the delivery of the service to the customers.

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the Corporation becomes a party to the contractual provisions to the instrument. For financial assets, this is equivalent to the date that the Corporation commits itself to either purchase or sell the asset (i.e. trade date accounting is adopted). Financial instruments are initially measured at fair value plus transactions costs except where the instrument is classified 'at fair value through profit or loss' in which case transaction costs are expensed to profit or loss immediately.

Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial instruments are subsequently measured at either fair value, amortised cost using the effective interest rate method or cost. Fair value represents the amount for which an asset could be exchanged or a liability settled, between knowledgeable and willing parties. Where available, quoted prices in an active market are used to determine fair value. In other circumstances, valuation techniques are adopted.

NOTE 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Amortised cost is calculated as:

- i. the amount at which the financial asset or financial liability is measured at initial recognition;
- ii. less principal repayments;
- iii. plus or minus the cumulative amortisation of the difference, if any, between the amount initially recognised and the maturity amount calculated using the effective interest method; and
- iv. less any reduction for impairment.

The effective interest method is used to allocate interest income or interest expense over the relevant period and is equivalent to the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts (including fees, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life (or when this cannot be reliably predicted, the contractual term) of the financial instrument to the net carrying amount of the financial asset or financial liability. Revisions to expected future net cash flows will necessitate an adjustment to the carrying value with a consequential recognition of an income or expense in profit or loss.

i. Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets are classified at 'fair value through profit or loss' when they are held for trading for the purpose of short-term profit taking, or where they are derivatives not held for hedging purposes, or when they are designated as such to avoid an accounting mismatch or to enable performance evaluation where a group of financial assets is managed by key management personnel on a fair value basis in accordance with a documented risk management or investment strategy. Such assets are subsequently measured at fair value with changes in carrying value being included in profit or loss.

ii. Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market and are subsequently measured at amortised cost.

Loans and receivables are included in current assets, except for those which are not expected to mature within 12 months after reporting date. (All other loans and receivables are classified as non-current assets.)

iii. Held-to-maturity investments

Held-to-maturity investments are non-derivative financial assets that have fixed maturities and fixed or determinable payments, and it is the Corporation's intention to hold these investments to maturity. They are subsequently measured at amortised cost.

Held-to-maturity investments are included in non-current assets, except for those which are expected to mature within 12 months after reporting date. (All other investments are classified as current assets.)

If during the period the Corporation sold or reclassified more than an insignificant amount of the

held-to-maturity investments before maturity, the entire held-to-maturity investments category would be tainted and reclassified as available-for-sale.

iv. Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivative financial assets that are either not capable of being classified into other categories of financial assets due to their nature, or they are designated as such by management. They comprise investments in the equity of other entities where there is neither a fixed maturity nor fixed or determinable payments.

Available-for-sale financial assets are included in non-current assets, except for those which are expected to be disposed of within 12 months after reporting date. (All other financial assets are classified as current assets.)

v. Financial liabilities

Non-derivative financial liabilities (excluding financial guarantees) are subsequently measured at amortised cost.

Fair Value

Fair value is determined based on current bid prices for all quoted investments. Valuation techniques are applied to determine the fair value for all unlisted securities, including recent arm's length transactions, reference to similar instruments and option pricing models.

Impairment

At the end of each reporting period, the Corporation assesses whether there is objective evidence that a financial instrument has been impaired. In the case of available-for-sale financial instruments, a prolonged decline in the value of the instrument is considered to determine whether impairment has arisen. Impairment losses are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

Derecognition

Financial assets are derecognised where the contractual rights to receipt of cash flows expires or the asset is transferred to another party whereby the Corporation no longer has any significant continuing involvement in the risks and benefits associated with the asset. Financial liabilities are derecognised where the related obligations are either discharged, cancelled or expired. The difference between the carrying value of the financial liability, which is extinguished or transferred to another party and the fair value of consideration paid, including the transfer of non-cash assets or liabilities assumed, is recognised in profit or loss.

e. Impairment of Assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Corporation reviews the carrying values of its assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have been impaired. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use, is compared to the asset's carrying value. Any excess of the asset's carrying value over its recoverable amount is expensed to the statement of comprehensive income.

Where the future economic benefits of the asset are not primarily dependent upon the asset's ability to generate net cash inflows and when the Corporation would, if deprived of the asset, replace its remaining future economic benefits, value in use is determined as the depreciated replacement cost of an asset.

Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an assets class, the Corporation estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the class of assets belong.

Where an impairment loss on a revalued asset is identified, this is debited against the revaluation reserve in respect of the same class of asset to the extent that the impairment loss does not exceed the amount in the revaluation reserve for that same class of asset.

f. Employee Benefits

Provision is made for the Corporation's liability for employee benefits arising from services rendered by employees to the end of the reporting period. Employee benefits that are expected to be settled within one year have been measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liability is settled. Employee benefits payable later than one year have been measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows to be made for those benefits. In determining the liability, consideration is given to employee wage increases and the probability that the employee may not satisfy vesting requirements. Those cash outflows are discounted using market yields on national government bonds with terms to maturity that match the expected timing of cash flows.

Contributions are made by the Corporation to an employee superannuation fund and are charged as expenses when incurred.

g. Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at-call with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within short-term borrowings in current liabilities on the statement of financial position.

Financial Report for the Year Ended 31 December 2014

h. Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office. In these circumstances the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of an item of expense. Receivables and payables in the statement of financial position are shown inclusive of GST.

Cash flows are presented in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis, except for the GST component of investing and financing activities, which are disclosed as operating cash flows.

i. Income Tax

No provision for income tax has been raised as the Corporation is exempt from income tax under Division 50 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

j. Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Corporation has a legal or constructive obligation, as a result of past events, for which it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will result and that outflow can be reliably measured. Provisions recognised represent the best estimate of the amounts required to settle the obligation at the end of the reporting period.

k. Comparative Figures

Where required by Accounting Standards comparative figures have been adjusted to conform with changes in presentation for the current financial year.

When a Corporation applies an accounting policy retrospectively, makes a retrospective restatement or reclassifies items in its financial statements, a statement of financial position as at the beginning of the earliest comparative period must be disclosed.

l. Trade and Other Payables

Trade and other payables represent the liability outstanding at the end of the reporting period for goods and services received by the Corporation during the reporting period which remain unpaid. The balance is recognised as a current liability with the amounts normally paid within 30 days of recognition of the liability.

m. Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

The directors evaluate estimates and judgments incorporated into the financial statements based on historical knowledge and best available current information. Estimates assume a reasonable expectation of future events and are based on current trends and economic data, obtained both externally and within the Corporation.

n. New Accounting Standards for Application in Future Periods

The Australian Accounting Standards Board has issued new and amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations that have mandatory application dates for future reporting periods and which the Corporation has decided not to early adopt. The Corporation has considered the requirements of these standards and has determined that they will not have any material effect on the Corporation's financial statements.

(i) Provision for Impairment of Receivables

Current trade receivables are generally on 30-day terms. These receivables are assessed for recoverability. A provision for impairment is recognised when there is objective evidence that an individual trade receivable is impaired.

(ii) Credit Risk — Trade and Other Receivables

The Corporation does not have any material credit risk exposure to any single receivable or group of receivables.

The following table details the Corporation's trade and other receivables exposed to credit risk (prior to collateral and other credit enhancements) with ageing analysis and impairment provided for thereon. Amounts are considered as 'past due' when the debt has not been settled within the terms and conditions agreed between the Corporation and the customer or counter party to the transaction. Receivables that are past due are assessed for impairment by ascertaining solvency of the debtors and are provided for where there are specific circumstances indicating that the debt may not be fully repaid to the Corporation.

The balances of receivables that remain within initial trade terms (as detailed in the table) are considered to be of high credit quality.

Financial Risk Management

Consisting of senior committee members, the finance advisory committee's overall risk management strategy seeks to assist the Corporation in meeting its financial targets, whilst minimising potential adverse effects on financial performance. Risk management policies are approved and reviewed by the finance advisory committee on a regular basis. These include credit risk policies and future cash flow requirements.

Specific Financial Risk Exposures and Management

The main risks the Corporation is exposed to through its financial instruments are credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk relating to interest rate risk and equity price risk.

Credit risk

Exposure to credit risk relating to financial assets arises from the potential non-performance by counterparties of contract obligations that could lead to a financial loss for the Corporation.

The Corporation does not have any material credit risk exposure at present as the major source of revenue is the receipt of grants and sponsorships. Credit risk is further mitigated as over 33% of the grants being received from state and federal governments are in accordance with funding agreements currently in place. The Corporation also carries adequate cash reserves with a reserves ratio currently calculated at approximately 32%.

Credit Risk Exposures

The maximum exposure to credit risk by class of recognised financial assets at the end of the reporting period is equivalent to the carrying value and classification of those financial assets (net of any provisions) as presented in the statement of financial position.

Trade and other receivables that are neither past due, nor impaired are considered to be of high credit quality. Aggregates of such amounts are as detailed at Note 5.

The Corporation has no significant concentration of credit risk exposure to any single counterparty or group of counterparties. Details with respect to credit risk of Trade and Other Receivables are provided in Note 5.

Credit risk related to balances with banks and other financial institutions is managed by the finance advisory committee, in accordance with approved Board policy. Such policy requires that surplus funds are only invested with counterparties with a Standard & Poor's rating of at least AA-. The following table provides information regarding the credit risk relating to cash and money market securities based on Standard & Poor's counterparty credit ratings.

NOTE 16: FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (CONT'D)

b. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk arises from the possibility that the Corporation might encounter difficulty in settling its debts or otherwise meeting its obligations in relation to financial liabilities. The Corporation manages this risk through the following mechanisms:

- preparing forward looking cash flow analysis in relation to its operational, investing and financing activities;
- maintaining a reputable credit profile;
- managing credit risk related to financial assets;
- only investing surplus cash with major financial institutions; and
- comparing the maturity profile of financial liabilities with the realisation profile of financial assets.

The tables below reflect an undiscounted contractual maturity analysis for financial liabilities.

Cash flows realised from financial assets reflect management's expectation as to the timing of realisation. Actual timing may therefore differ from that disclosed. The timing of cash flows presented in the table to settle financial liabilities reflects the earliest contractual settlement dates.

Net inflow on financial instruments	888,249	439,566	-	-	-	-	888,249	439,566

c. Market Risk

i. Interest rate risk

Exposure to interest rate risk arises on financial assets and financial liabilities recognised at the end of the reporting period whereby a future change in interest rates will affect future cash flows or the fair value of fixed rate financial instruments.

Sensitivity Analysis

The following table illustrates sensitivities to the Corporation's exposures to changes in interest rates. The table indicates the impact on how profit and equity values reported at the end of the reporting period would have been affected by changes in the relevant risk variable that management considers to be reasonably possible. These sensitivities assume that the movement in a particular variable is independent of other variables.

	Profit	Equity
Year ended 31 December 2014 +/-2% in interest rates	10,666	10,666
Year Ended 31 December 2013 +/-2% in interest rates	9,909	9,909

No sensitivity analysis has been performed on foreign exchange risk as the Corporation is not exposed to foreign currency fluctuations.

Net Fair Values

Fair value estimation

The fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities are presented in the following table and can be compared to their carrying values as presented in the statement of financial position. Fair values are those amounts at which an asset could be exchanged, or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties in an arm's length transaction.

Fair values derived may be based on information that is estimated or subject to judgment, where changes in assumptions may have a material impact on the amounts estimated. Areas of judgment and the assumptions have been detailed below. Where possible, valuation information used to calculate fair value is extracted from the market, with more reliable information available from markets that are actively traded.

Differences between fair values and carrying values of financial instruments with fixed interest rates are due to the change in discount rates being applied by the market since their initial recognition by the Corporation. Most of these instruments which are carried at amortised cost (i.e. trade receivables, loan liabilities) are to be held until maturity and therefore the net fair value figures calculated bear little relevance to the Corporation.

Financial Report for the Year Ended 31 December 2014

NOTE 16: FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (CONT'D)

The fair values disclosed in the above table have been determined based on the following methodology:

- (i) Cash and cash equivalents, trade and other receivables and trade and other payables are short-term instruments in nature whose carrying value is equivalent to fair value. Trade and other payables exclude amounts provided for annual leave, which is not considered a financial instrument.
